

Renée Lercher*

Chief Financial Officer

New York Office | +1.212.940.8603

renee.lercher@katten.com

Renée Lercher oversees all aspects of the firm's finance function. A seasoned financial executive, she works with firm leadership to guide strategic direction for financial performance, profitability management, partnership accounting matters, and financial and tax compliance regulations.

Change agent focused on delivering top-tier client service

Renée's career is marked by her ability to guide organizations and implement innovative financial solutions to achieve strategic financial results. Her efforts consistently result in the delivery of top-of-class services to clients while simultaneously increasing efficiencies and profitability.

As a CPA with a diverse background in global law firms and professional services, Renée has experience with managing financial planning, reporting and operations, debt structuring, pension plans, and jurisdictional audit and tax compliance reporting. She has been instrumental in enhancing existing financial reporting procedures and systems, including selecting and implementing new financial software technology that streamlines the delivery of actionable financial information to leadership.

Collegial and forward-thinking, she is known for her ability to build a strong culture of professionalism, with performance accountability and fiscal responsibility.

News

- Katten Brings on New CFO Renée Lercher (September 30, 2022)

* Not a practicing attorney

Education

- BA, The City University of New York at Baruch College